Provisions of Bill. The bill is for leasing of oil, coal, phosthate, gas, and potassium deposits on the public lands. The hearing today brought together a large body of oil men from California and elsewhere and also Government experts on minerals.

Among the California oil men here, or persons interested in California oil, are former Governor Gillett, W. R. Wheeler, Geerge B. Bush, Frank H. Short, Lieutenant Governor Eshleman, William Fitzhugh, Lewis Titus, F. B. Loomis, David Ewing, Thomas O'Donnell, and others.

The California oil men do not oppose the leasing system, but want some amendments in the bill to protect the accurred rights of persons who have developed lands or located on lands bearing oil or supposed to bear oil.

The board of directors of the Capital Traction Company, in their annual report to stockholders which was made public today, attribute the decrease shown in operating revenues as embraced in the financial statement recently issued to the falling off in passenger receipts which occurred during the first eight months of the year.

This decrease the report anys was the first eight months of the year. This decrease the report sava was "owing to the unrestricted operation of litteys, the more common use of individually owned automobiles, and to depressed business conditions, which materially lessened the number of transient riders on street cars."

With the announcement by the Public Hillities Commission of its intention to regulate litteys, the directors say, a very gratifying chance occurred in the road's business, and the last four months of 1915 are said to have registered material gains in passenger re-
